Cookie Policy

Effective date: [EFFECTIVE DATE]

This Cookie Policy explains how [OPERATOR LEGAL NAME] ("we," "us," or "our") uses cookies, browser storage and similar technologies on alaska-i.com (the "Site"), and the choices you have. It supplements our Privacy Policy.

1. What these technologies are

- Cookies are small text files that a website asks your browser to store and send back on later visits. First-party cookies are set by the site you are visiting; third-party cookies are set by another company's service used on that site.
- Local storage and session storage are areas in your browser where a website can keep information on your device. Unlike cookies, they are not sent to our servers automatically. Session storage is cleared when you close the browser tab.
- Requests to third-party servers happen when a page loads content, such as a map image or a font, directly from another company's servers. That company then receives your IP address and basic browser information even if it sets no cookies.

2. What we use and why

2.1 Strictly necessary

These make sign-in, security and core features work. The Site cannot work properly without them, so they cannot be switched off in our Site.

Name	Type	Purpose	Duration
access_token	First-party cookie (not readable by page scripts)	Keeps you signed in	15 minutes, renewed while you are active refresh_token	First-party cookie (not readable by page scripts)	Renews your sign-in session securely	7 days

Name	Type	Purpose	Duration
verified_phone	First-party cookie (not readable by page scripts)	Confirms during registration that your phone number was verified	About 30 minutes
currentUser	Local storage	Remembers basic details of the signed-in account (account number, username, email address, role) so the Site can show your account menu	Until you sign out
chunkReloadAt	Session storage	Prevents repeated reloads when the Site has just been updated	Until you close the tab

2.2 Functional

These remember choices you make. You can clear them at any time in your browser.

Name	Type	Purpose	Duration
cookieConsent	Local storage	Remembers whether you accepted or declined analytics cookies	Until you clear it or change your choice
i18nextLng	Local storage	Remembers your interface language	Until you clear it
promo… Dismissed	Local storage	Remembers that you closed a promotional message	Until you clear it draft_…	Local storage	Saves an unfinished listing form on your device so you do not lose your work (photos are not saved)	Until you submit the form or clear it

2.3 Analytics

We use Google Analytics 4, provided by Google LLC, to understand how the Site is used: for example, which pages are visited, how quickly they load, and how many people start and complete registration or publish listings. Google Analytics sets the following first-party cookies, and only after you click “Accept” in the cookie notice:

Name	Type	Purpose	Duration
_ga	First-party cookie set by Google Analytics	Distinguishes browsers visiting the Site	2 years
_ga_YJKKJHQT84	First-party cookie set by Google Analytics	Keeps track of the session	2 years

Google receives your IP address and information about your use of the Site, as described in Google's own privacy policy. We have not enabled Google Analytics advertising features, and we do not use Google Analytics data to show you targeted ads.

Drafting note: Confirm in the Google Analytics property that Google Signals and ads-personalization are off, set the data-retention period, and fill in the measurement ID. If advertising features are enabled later, this section, the Privacy Policy and the cookie notice must change and an opt-out must be offered.

2.4 Error monitoring

We use Sentry, provided by Functional Software, Inc., to detect and diagnose errors and performance problems. Sentry does not set cookies on the Site. When an error occurs, and for a sample of page loads, it receives technical details together with your IP address, browser information and, if you are signed in, your account number, username and email address.

2.5 Content loaded from third parties

- Maps. Maps on the Site are drawn from map images loaded directly from the OpenStreetMap Foundation's tile servers, which receive your IP address, browser information and the address of the page. Map data © OpenStreetMap contributors, available under the Open Database License.
- Fonts. Some fonts are loaded from Google Fonts, which receives your IP address and browser information.
- Payments. When you pay for a feature, you are sent to a checkout page hosted by Stripe on stripe.com. Stripe uses its own cookies on its pages, mainly to prevent fraud; they are governed by Stripe's cookie and privacy policies.
- Telegram. Links to our Telegram bot and channel open Telegram's website or app, which are governed by Telegram's own policies.

We do not currently use advertising cookies, social-media tracking pixels or cross-site tracking technologies.

3. The cookie notice

When you first visit the Site, a notice at the bottom of the page asks whether you accept analytics cookies, with equal “Accept” and “Decline” buttons and links to this policy and our Privacy Policy. Google Analytics cookies are set only after you click “Accept”. Before you choose, and if you decline, Google Analytics sets no cookies; Google may still receive basic signals without cookies, such as that a page was visited, the time and your browser type. You can change your choice at any time with “Cookie settings” at the bottom of every page; if you decline after accepting, we delete the Google Analytics cookies already set. The strictly necessary items above are used whether or not you accept.

Drafting note: The notice uses Google Consent Mode: analytics cookies stay off until “Accept”, but the Google tag still loads and sends Google cookieless signals before a choice and after “Decline”. Counsel should confirm this is acceptable for the states from which the Site expects users, or ask for the tag to load only after “Accept”.

4. Your choices

- Browser settings. Most browsers let you view, delete and block cookies and site data, including for specific sites. If you block strictly necessary cookies, you will not be able to sign in. Instructions are in your browser's help pages.
- Cookie settings. “Cookie settings” at the bottom of every page reopens the cookie notice, where you can accept or decline analytics cookies.
- Google Analytics opt-out. Google offers a browser add-on that stops Google Analytics from collecting data on any site: https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout.
- Clearing local storage. Clearing “site data” or “cookies and other site data” for alaska-i.com in your browser removes the local-storage items listed above. Signing out removes your account details from local storage.
- Global Privacy Control and Do Not Track. Our Privacy Policy explains how we treat these signals.

5. Changes

We will update this Cookie Policy when we change the technologies we use. The effective date above shows when it was last changed.
